

Edu, Ventures and friend Science put their names on the list for an EduVentures expedition....

SMS from Edu, "Ventures, stop watching boring TV and come see this cool project at the Museum".

Ventures thinks, "maybe I should go see this cool project thing?"

The selection process starts....A visit to the museum, a tough pre-hike and a nerve-racking interview....

2 weeks of hiking...mapreading...little water...no washing...collecting spiders, scorpions, insects, reptiles, etc, etc....

Post Hike EduClub....

"wow, there's a lot of benefits to be an eduenturer!"

Post Hike Science EduVentures....

"doing this science project is so much fun!"

In Namibia there is a science competition.... all three win medals for their science projects.

Edu is very motivated and works hard... therefore EduVentures organized her a scholarship....

Science gives a presentation to his schoolmates....

Our 3 eduenturers now came full circle, teaching their peers and new eduenturers....
